Product Description

Overview

Multipurpose ASTM A312 TP310S Seamless Stainless Steel Tubing is austenitic chromium-nickel stainless steel with good oxidation resistance, corrosion resistance, because of the higher percentage of chromium and nickel, so that it has much better creep strength, can continue to work at high temperatures, with good high temperature resistance.

Applications

Widely used in petroleum, chemical industry, construction, electric power, machinery, biotechnology, ship building, aerospace, and military. Pipes also can be made according to the customer's required.
